PRE-DEPARTURE ORIENTATION

Going to the U.S. for your higher education is an exciting step towards your future!

Let EducationUSA advisors, American students and local alumni help you to become well-prepared for your trip and new student life. They will share their own experience and answer questions you may have about travel considerations, academic, cultural, financial, and practical aspects of student life on a U.S. campus. The session will also facilitate interaction among students who are going to particular schools.
